PERSONAL ASSESSMENT ROLLS ARE EQUALIZED BY BOARD SUPERVISORS

Total Assessment as Submitted By Assessor is $937,772.50, Or About $300,000 Less Than Last Year—Adjustments Being Made This Week.

The Board of Supervisors, in session this week for the regular July meeting, is engaged in going over the personal assessment roll of the county, this roll having been submitted to the board by the county assessor, E. Van Whitfield, who made up his roll from assessments given him by residents of the county. The board is engaged in equalizing the assessments, a number of changes being made. It is expected that the board will be in session about ten days engaged in this work.

The roll shows a total of $937,772.50 personal assessments for the county, or about $300,000 less than last year. Items as assessed in the rolls are of interest, the following showing: horses, 382, valued at $12,420; mules, 320, $9,900; oxen, 105, $2,025; autos, 1047, $199,015; motor cycles, 7, $165; wagons, 130, $1,975; gasoline storage tanks, 9, $4,200; electric refrigerators, 11, $860; radio receiving sets, 32, $960; pianos, 185, $9,255; phonographs and other musical instruments, 115, $2,745; guns and pistols, 30, $2,745; watches and clocks, 83, $1,375; diamonds, value, $2,615; household furniture, $15,820; heating and lighting plants, $445; gasoline filling station equipment, $5,582; office and store furniture equipment and fixtures, $16,610; merchandise, $159,122; machinery, $52,323; manufactured products, $151,700; boats, $30,060; materials for manufacture, telephone, gas, waterline equipment, etc., $24,625; money on hand, $9,266; bonds bearing interest in excess of 6 percent, $11,100; power line equipment, $14,000; bank capital stock and surplus, $213,734.50.

SEEKING PEST FLY IN MISS.

What the Mediterranean Fruit Fly Is—Extent in Florida—Not in Miss.

In response to many letters asking for information about the Mediterranean fly situation in the South and the methods that are being used to eradicate it in Florida, the Mississippi State Plant Board, A. & M. College, furnishes The Echo with the information that follows.

Sixteen counties in Florida, extending across the state from the Atlantic to the Gulf, are known to be infested with the fruit fly at this time. It has not yet been found in any other state except in oranges or grapefruit from Florida, although hundreds of inspectors are scouting all over the South for it. Over 50 temporary inspectors are at work in Florida, and the fruit fly has been found in a large number of host plants, including, besides citrus fruits, peaches, cherries, peppers, tomatoes, maypops, and a large number of other plants.

Every Precaution Taken. Hundreds of tons of infested oranges and grapefruit were destroyed by cooking, grinding, or burning soon after the discovery was made. Infested groves have also been sprayed daily with a poisonous spray to kill any adult flies on the trees. No host plant of the fly is allowed to mature and ripen fruit in the infested zones during the entire summer. All pear, apple, fig and other fruit trees in these areas have been stripped of their fruit; in many cases the trees have been destroyed. No beans, tomatoes, peppers, squash, cucumbers, canteloupes, and other host vegetables are allowed to be planted in the infested zones. Every effort is being made to prevent the further multiplication of the fly by leaving nothing in which they can breed.

Mississippians Urged. Every citizen of Mississippi is urged to aid in the search for this pest by sending any fruits or vegetables containing suspicious-looking maggots or worms to the State Plant Board at A. & M. College for identification.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE LIQUOR VIOLATION

Sheriff J. C. Jones of Bay St. Louis and Deputy U. S. Marshal George of Biloxi, arrested Alno Lader as the Harrison-Hancock County line Monday. Lader was charged with violation of the prohibition law. Newman, prohibition agent, caught Lader with liquor last week and the arrest followed this information. Sheriff Jones said Lader was carried to Gulfport and placed in jail. He will be tried in Federal court in Biloxi at the next session.

50 EXPECT TO ATTEND CONVENT'N

Chancery Clerks Of State Will Assemble In Bay July 30-31 And August 1.

About 50 of the chancery clerks of Mississippi are expected to attend the sixth annual convention of the Chancery Clerks' Association which will convene at Bay St. Louis, July 30-31 and August 1, a number of these clerks to be accompanied by their wives. A. G. Favre, Hancock county clerk and secretary-treasurer of the state association, announces.

An unusually interesting program of entertainment has been arranged by Mr. Favre as general chairman, assisted by a number of local business men and members of the Chamber of Commerce.

The entertainment committee includes: C. C. McDonald, chairman; H. S. Weston, John B. Wheat, F. Z. Goss, Jos. P. Moran, Emilio Cue, Chas. Traub, Sr., Leo W. Seal and George R. Rea.

A committee of ladies will arrange special entertainment for the visiting wives of the clerks during the business sessions.

The session will open Tuesday, July 30, 10 a. m. at the Hotel Weston, headquarters for the convention, and Rev. Leo F. Fahey, of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church, Bay St. Louis, will lead the invocation, which will be followed by registration, great in the form of an "old time hand-shaking" and the introduction of clerks in attendance at the convention. Welcome addresses will be given by H. S. Weston, president Board of Supervisors, representing the county, and R. L. Genin, city attorney representing Bay St. Louis. The response will be made by H. K. Rogers, of Poplarville, Pearl River county clerk, president of the association. Other officers of the association are: J. G. Sherard, Vicksburg, vice-president; and A. G. Favre, Bay St. Louis, secretary-treasurer.

The convention will have as guest of honor Judge D. M. Russell, chancellor of eighth chancery court district, who will give an address, on legislative subjects.

The afternoon session, opening at 2 o'clock, will include a sight seeing tour of the Mississippi Coast. The Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring this trip and a committee including C. G. Moreau, C. M. Shipp and H. U. Gentry, are making arrangements for the trip.

At 3:30 o'clock, that night the visiting clerks will be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at a picture show party at the A. & G. Theater. R. C. Richards and John De Armas form the committee for the theater party.

Wednesday Session. The Wednesday session is given over to a delightful day at Cat Island. The party will assemble at 8:15 a. m. at Blaize's pier where they will take boat for Goose Point Club House, Cat Island, and where bathing, fishing and fish fry are announced as the attractions.

The committee for the island trip includes Grady Perkins, chairman; R. L. Genin, Waldo Otis and Brother Peter.

Thursday Meetings. The business session will convene Thursday morning, 10 a. m. at the Hotel Weston, when the meeting will be opened with an invocation by Rev. C. C. Clark, Methodist pastor. E. J. Gex, county attorney of Hancock county, will deliver an address on the importance of our organization. At 10:45 o'clock, Judge V. A. Griffith, former chancellor of the eighth chancery court and now judge of the Supreme Court, will deliver an address.

The meeting will reconvene at 1:30 o'clock, following luncheon, for the final session in Bay St. Louis, at which time a round table discussion on matters about which the clerks desire information will be held. Reports of committees and election of officers will close this session.

The final session of the convention will take place on the roof garden of the Hotel Markham, Gulfport, 8 o'clock, when the annual banquet will be held and when the selection of the next convention city will be made.

BAPTIST W. M. C. The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will hold a business meeting Monday night, at 7:30 o'clock, at the church. The president, Mrs. W. S. Sperry, urges all members to attend and new members are welcome.

BOY INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION SUNDAY MORNING

A. G. Bell, 9, New Orleans, Was Cut About Face, Neck and Arms; Returns Home.

A. G. Bell, Jr., 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Bell of New Orleans, who was badly cut about the face, arms and neck as a result of an auto collision early Sunday morning, and who was treated at the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital, was taken to this home Monday morning.

The injury occurred when the car in which the child was riding with his mother and a car owned by Anthony Scaffide of Bay St. Louis and driven by his daughter, collided at the intersection of Citizen street and Railroad avenue. Mrs. Bell was travelling on Railroad avenue from New Orleans en route to visit her mother, Mrs. Jack Strong of Bay St. Louis, and the Scaffide car was headed out Citizen street.

Chief of Police Mark Oliver arrested the drivers of both cars charging reckless driving. They were ordered to appear before Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr. Monday but in order for Mr. Bell father of the injured child, to more conveniently attend the trial, it was set for July 15, when he has a vacation.

EXCELLENT SERVICES FIFTH SUN.

Bay St. Louis Baptists Are Hosts To Hancock County Association.

Excellent services marked the Fifth Sunday meeting at the Bay St. Louis Baptist Church last Sunday when this church was host to the Hancock County Baptist Association. Fully 200 were in attendance at the services which were marked with a spirit of friendliness and spiritual values.

The local church had been prettily decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and baskets of cut flowers. The United States flag, the W. M. U. and G. A. banners were used in pleasing arrangement. The new pulpit furniture, gift of the W. M. S., was in place for the first time. Members of the local church constituted themselves a welcome committee and a gracious greeting was accorded all present.

'SPANISH ACRES' NAME OF HANDSOME SUB-DIVISION TO BE OPEN ON THE BEACH

City of Bay St. Louis to Open New Street and Pave Sidewalks in New Section to be Opened—Enterprise Is Outstanding And Will Outlive.

With the flavor and romance of all that is possible to be conjured from the things that are Spanish, Bay St. Louis' newest sub-division is to be called "Spanish Acres," and includes all of that land situated between the former Capdeville place and Lanax Villa, on South Beach Boulevard.

On Monday, the board of city commissioners, in regular session, entertained a proposition from Col. James E. Edmunds, one of the main owners, in the form of a petition of request for the purpose of building sidewalks and other improvements. The commissioners believed the said improvements should be made, but stated, that before any definite agreement could be made, it would require the services of an engineer.

Services of E. S. Drake Retained.

Accordingly, Mayor Traub was authorized to employ the services of E. S. Drake, of Bay St. Louis, for the purpose of checking the plan of subdivision of "Spanish Acres," and he, in connection with reference to dedicating the sub-division and have said official plat properly and legally placed of record.

It was further ordered by the commission that E. S. Drake be directed to do all things to make the proper plans and specifications for the making of said improvements and to submit said plans and specifications to the council at a special meeting to be called for the purpose of considering and adopting said plans and specifications and considering all things at said special meeting for the doing of said work.

"Spanish Acres" Is Choice.

Location of "Spanish Acres" makes it easily one of the most ideal places on the Mississippi Gulf Coast to live.

TOUR OF COUNTY TO BE HELD

Public Invited To Participate in Visits To Test Plots of Cotton and Corn.

Under the direction of County Farm Agent Frank B. Pittman and sponsored by the Chilean Nitrate of Soda educational bureau, a tour of test plots of cotton and corn are to be visited July 10, in which everyone interested in farming and farming development is cordially invited to participate.

The tour will leave the court house, Bay St. Louis, the morning of July 10, at 9:30 o'clock, will cover about 50 miles of driving over gravelled roads and will close by 3:30 o'clock, that afternoon, Mr. Pittman announces.

Explaining the tour and the tests Mr. Pittman states that through the Chilean Nitrate of Soda company under the supervision of C. M. Pringle, state manager from Jackson, 2000 pounds of fertilizer have been furnished Hancock county for some tests of corn and cotton. Mr. Pringle and the southern agronomist of the fertilizer company will be present to accompany the tour. The test plots to be visited are located as follows: corn, Otto Rester, Leetown; cotton, Wylie Smith, Flat Top. A three-acre plot of corn demonstration at the home of Felton Whitfield, Flat Top, and several 4-H club boys plots will also be viewed on the tour.

Two poultry farms will be visited during the tour, also, those at the homes of John Rester and Otto Rester of Leetown.

A cash prize of $5 is offered to the member of the tour party "who comes nearest to estimating the differences in the yield produced on chilean nitrate of soda plots over check plots," the award to be made after the crops are harvested.

Dinner will be served for a nominal sum at the Leetown Community Park, the ladies of the Leetown Community Organization serving a farm dinner, the proceeds from which will be devoted to beautification projects at the park. The members of the tour are assured that all kinds of good things which grow on farms will be served.

The Flat Top Woman's Home Demonstration Club will serve hot coffee and other refreshments at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pittman at the close of the tour.

Mr. Pittman suggests that business men in the Bay and other parts of the county cooperate in this tour of farms and see agricultural developments to be noted in the county.

CITY PROPERTY TO BE MADE SPOT OF JOY AND BEAUTY

Waterworks Maintainer's Residence Has New Roof; Commissioners Plan Garden

Firmly believing that the city of Bay St. Louis should be "a thing of beauty and joy forever," Commissioner S. J. Ladner, commissioner of public utilities, with other members of the city commission operating, plans to beautify the city grounds in and around the waterworks property, just as the school grounds have been converted into one of the most attractive spots of the city.

"The season is not at hand just now," said Mr. Ladner, "but in the fall I plan to convert the city grounds around the waterworks plant into a veritable garden, thus enhancing and improving the neighborhood and helping to beautify the city as well. This is the general order of things now. Everybody who has a place to live and thinks something of his or her home is busy beautifying."

Completion of the new roof on the city waterworks maintainers' premises in Carroll avenue, was recently accomplished and on Monday the city commission allowed John Beuhler the sum of $436.00 in full and final settlement of his contract for the work. The said warrant was ordered issued on the consent of the United States Fidelity and Deposit Company, and the said amount was in full and final settlement.

DR. SHIPP WILL HOLD CHILDREN'S CLINIC JULY 6

About 17 Will Undergo Operation For Tonsils and Adenoids by Dr. Allen.

About 17 children of school and pre-school ages will undergo operations for tonsils and adenoids July 6, at a children's clinic which the county health unit under the direction of Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, will foster. The clinic will be held at the office of Dr. Kotz Allen on Toule street and Dr. Allen will perform the operations. Miss Ida Hood of Hattiesburg, state health board nurse, who is in Hancock county for a month's work, will serve as nurse at the clinic. This is one of a series of clinics which Dr. Shipp has been conducting the past year in which children from the rural districts have been given clinical operations.

Add To Sales Force At Edwards Motor Co.

J. J. McCaskill, formerly of Marianna, Florida, has recently been added to the sales force of the Edwards Bros. Motor Company. He is engaged in the sale of Fords, Fordsons and Lincolns.

Undergoes Operation

Friends of Mrs. E. J. Leonhard rejoice that she is recovering from a serious operation which she underwent last week at Touro Infirmary at which institution she was a patient for six days, returning home Tuesday. Mrs. Leonhard suffered an infection on her face near the eye which threatened to be very serious and attending physicians assured her that the condition was dangerous. She is feeling well and is able to be out.

New Nurse at Hospital

Mrs. May Rice of New Orleans who was secured recently as nurse in charge of the King's Daughters Emergency Hospital, and who has identified herself with that institution, is proving quite efficient and the hospital board and public with whom she comes in contact are pleased to have her here. She has had extensive nursing experience both as private and institutional and comes highly recommended.

Attending Convention

Misses Miriam and Levia Engman who left the Bay two weeks ago to attend the convention of the Woman's Benefit Association at Atlantic City, will also attend the national convention of Federation of Business and Professional Women which will convene Sunday and continue through the following week at Mac-nae Island, Mich., representing the Pass Christian Business and Professional Women's Club of which they are members.

NEW PRESIDENT BAY ST. LOUIS' ROTARY CLUB

The board of supervisors in session this week passed a resolution setting August 3, as the date for celebrating the completion and dedication of the seawall and driveway along the beach in Hancock county. This date was set at the request of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce. A committee including Emilio Cue representing the county, C. C. McDonald representing the Chamber of Commerce and Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr., representing the city of Bay St. Louis, was named to formulate plans and prepare a suitable program for this celebration. All arrangements for the occasion were left in the hands of this general committee which is empowered to appoint other committees, assured of the cooperation of every citizen of the county in making this an outstanding celebration observing as it does a great undertaking.

The seawall, protection against the encroachment of the waters of Bay and Sound to the lands of Hancock county, the driveway and sidewalk, sources of unending pleasure to motorists and pedestrians, both local and visiting, are projects of which each citizen of the county has reason to be proud and their completing is a time of rejoicing.

PEDDLERS MUST NOT USE BEACH

City Passes Ordinance Prohibiting Peddlers From Parking on Certain Streets.

The city commissioners at the first of the month meeting held Monday morning passed an ordinance amending a former ordinance, regarding peddlers. The ordinance was amended to prohibit under penalty of fine from $5 to $50, from parking or leaving trucks, cars or other vehicles from which are being retailed vegetables, fruit, goods, commodities or things, on North or South Beach boulevard, or on Main street from Beach Boulevard to Second street. The ordinance is declared effective from the day of passage without publication. Complaints that trucks and cars parked on the boulevard were a hindrance and nuisance to traffic have come to the city and the ordinance was amended to relieve this nuisance. The commissioners ordered paid to John P. Buehler the sum of $436 for work of re-roofing the house occupied by the foreman of the waterworks department and roofing the pumping house. The name of a street was ordered changed, Tomasch Lane becoming Bay View Court.

E. S. Drake, local engineer, was appointed engineer by the board to make plans and specifications for development work in the way of streets, sidewalks, gutters, sewerage in Spanish Acres sub-division. He is to report to the board as soon as his work is accomplished and the board and owners of the sub-division will decide what is to be done.

SPECIAL FEDERAL COURT.

The proposal has been made to the Department of Justice that a special Federal Criminal Court be established in each judicial district, over which will preside a judge to try only criminal cases.

The recommendation was made by a U. S. Attorney of the Middle, who thought the constant operation of such a tribunal would relieve the congestion which now interferes with the trial of both civil and criminal cases in many districts.

Another benefit to be derived from such a special criminal court is that those arrested for flagrant violation of the prohibition laws would be less likely to engage in illicit operations on a commercial basis. With such a criminal court open for business almost all of the time prompt punishment could be meted out to those found guilty of law violation, which, after all, is the best deterrent to law violations.

While this proposed criminal court would deal with violation of all statutes, it is interesting to note that in 1928 there was instituted 27,575 cases for the violation of the prohibition laws in various district courts of the United States. There were 23,683 convictions and pleas, with resulting fines of about three and a quarter millions of dollars.

SKINNING THE MOTORIST.

American automobile drivers paid $20,000,000 in 1928 for gasoline which they did not receive, according to the statements made by Ernest N. Smith, General Manager of the A. A. A.

At least one-sixth of all gasoline sold in that year, or approximately 2,000,000,000 gallons, was subjected to short measure, so that the motorists received 100,000,000 gallons less than they paid for, charge Mr. Smith, whose information was obtained as a result of a survey made by his Association, he said.

To remedy this unjust toll, Mr. Smith, recommended the adoption of new legislation on weights and measures where existing law is inadequate and the securing of sufficient appropriations by the various legislatures to enable the State organizations, which should be reorganized and enlarged in many instances, enforce the law properly and adequately.

While all of the charges made by Mr. Smith may be true and correct, The Echo is rather of the opinion that such measures as are given are the result of imperfect and faulty machinery rather than any deliberate intention upon the part of the thousands of gasoline sellers throughout the country.

PLENTY OF CARS.

A world registration of automobiles, as of January 1st, was recently undertaken by the Department of Commerce. According to the best available information, there were 32,028,584 automobiles in the world. Of these, 27,007,695 were passenger cars.

The world at large has something more than thirty-two million automobiles but of these the United States enjoys the use of 24,629,921, or very nearly five-sixths. In this country there are something more than three million trucks and something more than twenty-one million passenger cars.

There were some other interesting statistics gathered at the same time. For example, there are 2,262,932 motorcycles in the world, but of these Great Britain leads the world, having registered more than one-fourth, Germany comes next with about one-fifth, France third with about one-seventh, and the United States fourth with approximately one-twentieth.

The world registration of automobiles shows a steady increase, from 24,473,619 in 1922 to the 32,028,574 in 1929. The ratio of world passenger cars to world population is one car to every seventy persons, whereas in the United States the ratio is one car to every 5.6 persons, or, about thirteen times as many cars.

PROTECT THE CHILDREN.

Every driver of an automobile has a tender regard for the rights of the pedestrian when he happens to be the pedestrian. On such occasions they are in position to understand that approximately 65 per cent of all persons injured or killed in automobile accidents are pedestrians. They are then willing, after a narrow escape from some driver, to believe that a pedestrian is entitled to safety, and that whether he is in the right or wrong the driver should protect him.

We hope that every automobile driver in Bay St. Louis, who reads this, will make up his or her mind to drive carefully, having regard to the presence of children in the streets, the location of schools and playgrounds and the natural tendency of children to ignore danger of which they are not fully aware.

Let's give a thought to the children particularly. They furnish one-third of the fatalities that result from automobile accidents. They are entitled to safety. If drivers do not give it to them, then it is time for the state to step in and, by laws strictly enforced, see that the children of Mississippi have as near absolute protection as can be obtained.

More than sixty years ago, the United States Government called in for redemption more than $50,000,000 in paper money and it may surprise you to hear that about $13,000,000 was never presented for payment. This is interesting in view of the introduction of the new sized paper currency, because it is highly probable that the Government will gain quite a bit through the failure of some people to turn in some of the $50,000,000 now out in paper money.

THE RACE WITH TIMBER BANKRUPTCY.

THE GREENWOOD COMMONWEALTH of May 13 had as its leading editorial one entitled "A Saw Mill Suspends." The Mississippi Forestry Commission offers this editorial as food for thought to the thinkers of the state.

"The announcement Saturday that one of the largest saw mills in Mississippi will suspend operations because of exhaustion of its timber supply, should make Mississippi pause and consider its lumbering industry, which has been and still is the largest single industry which developed south Mississippi, and it is that industry which is the backbone of that prosperous section of Mississippi. But the end is in sight. The mill at Kiln will stop operations within the next year, and it had already been announced that the big mill at D'Lo would be dismantled at an early date. Other mills will follow, because without lumber there will be no saw mill. Thus Mississippi faces the loss of its most important industry.

"It was the lumbering industry which developed south Mississippi, and it is that industry which is the backbone of that prosperous section of Mississippi. But the end is in sight. The mill at Kiln will stop operations within the next year, and it had already been announced that the big mill at D'Lo would be dismantled at an early date. Other mills will follow, because without lumber there will be no saw mill. Thus Mississippi faces the loss of its most important industry.

"The tax laws of Mississippi are largely responsible for the rapid consumption of the standing timber in the state. The timber has been and is taxed as real estate, and with assessments constantly growing higher, the owners were forced to speed production, cut the timber and turn it into lumber, if they were to realize any profit on their investment in timber lands.

"It is too late now, of course, to remedy that which has been done, but reforestation offers a method of keeping alive the lumber industry in Mississippi.

"Efforts at reforestation, however, will be futile, unless the tax system is changed in regard to timber.

"It would be well for the legislature to turn its attention toward this important matter. Timber must be regarded as a crop, and taxed only when it becomes a merchantable article in the form of lumber, or when it is severed from the soil."

CONCENTRATED WEALTH.

There may be some difference of opinion as to the beneficial effect of the concentration of wealth in the hands of few but we do not believe there would be many economists to deny the fact that this concentration is being accomplished in this country.

Not very long ago, Senator Walsh, Democrat of Massachusetts, presented a statistical demonstration of this economic trend, which data, he said, seems to "confirm the opinion that the wealth of the country is becoming concentrated in the hands of a few corporations and wealthy individuals, whose wealth is out of all proportion with that of the rest of the country."

During the five years between 1922 and 1927, the number of individuals having incomes in excess of a million dollars increased from 67 to 283, more than four times the original number. On the other hand, there was an increase of only sixty-sixty per cent of those with incomes between $10,000 and $50,000. Figures for corporate incomes show the same tendency. From 1922 to 1926, the increase in net incomes of corporations under $50,000 was less than a quarter of a billion dollars, while corporations having net incomes of more than $5,000,000 increased their earnings from slightly more than a billion and a half dollars. 239,096 corporations, with net incomes less than $50,000 in 1926, earned more than two billion dollars less than 214 corporations whose net earnings exceeded five million dollars.

In almost every branch of industry and commerce, the process of consolidation and concentration is apparent. Whether this concentrated control of wealth and the power it affords will work beneficially for the best interest of the country at large is a subject worth considering. But, in this connection, it is worth remembering the old remark that it is very hard to unscramble eggs.

A NATIONAL BROADCAST

Radio will play an increasing importance in future years. Citizens can hear programs, sitting comfortably at home, without the exertion of turning a page or straining the eye. The number of broadcasting stations are, however limited. The available "channels" are not inexhaustible; in fact the air is so "crowded" already that many stations are only permitted part-time operation. The day will come when the privilege of possessing a channel for a few hours will be worth large money.

The public fortunate already in the recognition of public ownership of the air—the Federal Radio Commission can issue and revoke "licenses" to use certain channels in the public interest. Now, Senator Nye, Progressive of North Dakota, proposes another forward step, that the government establish and operate a radio broadcasting station, which would be entirely free of any commercial control.

We heartily approve this purpose. It seems a logical and valuable activity on the part of the government to increase the discussion and public interest in public issues. It will aid in the growth of a more democratic and more responsive government by increasing the information of the average citizen about his own political affairs, for, even congressional debates could be broadcasted. Of course, such a station must be impartially and fairly operated.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE

In the heat of clashing opinions as to the desirability or evil of the prohibition law partisans on both sides go to extremes. Nor are such instances always confined to the Drys.

An example is the bill introduced in Congress by Representative Kahn, Republican of California, which would authorize the payment of $25,000 whenever a prohibition officer "want only or negligently killed" a person.

Why make an exception in the case of those killed by prohibition agents? Twenty-five thousand dollars is more than the Government paid the dependents of soldiers who gave their lives in defense of their country. Why any partiality to these particular victims?

Spanish Flyers

FORD, IN ARTICLE, SAYS OLDER MEN NEEDED IN PLANTS

Henry Ford, in the July issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, says that he should prefer, if he could make the choice, to have all his employees between 35 and 60 years of age.

"For then," the automobile manufacturer adds, "we should have a stable and experienced force. We would not care how much over 60 the men were so long as they could do their work."

Under no circumstances would we have a working house made up of only young men," Ford says. "It is absolutely necessary, in order to get the work through, to have a solid ram-work of older and more experienced men who know exactly what they are doing."

"It is not to be expected that a man of 70 will have as much endurance as one of 25. It is not at all necessary that he should have, for by the time a man has reached 70 he ought to have something a great deal more valuable than physical strength."

"The records of the employment department show that the work which calls for endurance is best served as a rule by men who are 40 and over. Younger men seem to tire of jobs of this kind rather quickly and want to be transferred to lighter work."

"Having lived a number of years," Ford says, "is a great advantage to anyone if those years have brought a background of experience it is usual to associate age with years only because so many men and women somewhere along in what is called middle age stop trying. They let themselves be old."

DRY AGENT SEEKS MAN; FINDS DEATH BEATS WARRANT

One of the 42 prohibition agents assigned to the Memphis "clean up program" begun earlier in the week, in which some eighty persons have been arrested, is nothing if not persistent.

He had been looking for Epsy Davis, negro, for three days. Epsy's name appeared on one of the clean up warrants given to him.

Finally yesterday he stopped in front of a store in the negro quarter and wiped perspiration from his brow. His quest was in grave danger of going on the rocks.

"What's the matter boss?" said a solitary old negro sitting in the doorway.

"Nothing, er, say, do you know a man named Epsy Davis?"

"Yessah, sho do," was the prompt reply.

"Where is he?" asked the agent eagerly.

"Cross the street," the old negro readily replied.

Risking his neck in traffic, the agent dashed into the indicated doorway and asked for his man.

"Right over there in that coffin," said the undertaker.

"Well, folks, it is a long column that has no end, and looking beyond this item, it seems that it will take a lot of type to fill it up."

Just because the sun shines in full force and the days are hot is no reason for us to forget that beautifying Bay St. Louis is an all-year-round undertaking.

Merchants who give thought to advertising believe in spending their money for newspaper space. Buyers who are ready to purchase also give thought to advertising. That is why it pays.

Mental exercise for this week. See how easy it is to write 25 paragraphs for this column. Mail them in, care editor The Echo and receive prize. Remember, too, this is not the first of April.

Brains and Soil.
MacDonald Reads Hazlitt.
The Fear Of Death.
A Brave Cow.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1927)

This nation with its annual income of NINETY THOUSAND MILLIONS of dollars, treats education generously. But the value of education depends not on money, but on the brains on which the education money is spent. A crop depends not entirely on the seed, but more on the soil.

Nearly nine hundred years ago, when Abelard, taught logic and theology to young men in the University of Paris, they gathered in Wintertime in a stone lined room, not heated, taking notes by candlelight.

And many, too poor to pay for candles, climbed the church steeple on bright moonlight nights, to continue their studies there by moonlight.

A few such students might be worth more to the world than a thousand million dollars of endowment. Edison gave to the world more money than wealth has ever given to education. So did Pasteur. Neither ever went to college.

Ramsay MacDonald, flying from Scotland to London in a British bombing plane, a parachute strapped over his leather flying coat, read Hazlitt on the way.

Hazlitt, who worked himself into a fury over the French Revolution, quarrelling with everybody that did not approve it, little thought that within 100 years of his death, a Socialist Laborite would be Prime Minister of England, without any revolution.

Still less did Hazlitt imagine that a British Labor Prime Minister would fly to his work.

Max D. Steuer, brilliant New York lawyer, says the best cure for any man that fears death is Hazlitt's essay on death.

Briefly Hazlitt says that, since we don't worry because we were not alive 1000 years ago, we should not worry because we won't be alive or conscious a hundred years hence.

In rural England, a huge lion, knocked out of his cage in an automobile collision, jumped into a cow pasture. A cow with a young calf dashed at him, and gored him, attacking him again and again, until he killed her. Others, later, killed him.

The cow, not the lion, is the interesting animal, in that story, for she represents mother love, with its boundless courage. How many men would have attacked the lion with no better weapon than a cow's horns.

Consider also the marvellous inheritance of memory. The cow's ancestors, probably, had not seen a dangerous wild beast, in more than 1,000 years. But, at sight, the cow knew that the lion meant danger to her calf, and rushed to the attack. Man is not the only animal "fearfully and wonderfully made."

Little Echoes.

Dawes and MacDonald sound call for world peace.

We have always wondered if the early bird catches the late worm.

Reading a book a week would kill some people that we know of.

We have long since ceased to wonder what fool stunt men will try next.

Few working men miss their breakfast in an effort to get down to hard work.

Modern styles for ladies are not joking matters to ladies with a certain type of figure.

Our idea of a slim chance is possessed by a baseball team that is now in the last place.

The old order may change but the restaurants still do a rush business in ham and eggs.

People who can't read their own writing expect a newspaper editor to get everything straight.

Life's little jokes: A poor man walk into a bank, expecting to be jollied along by the bankers.

We wonder whether Spain will make the defeat of Paulino a matter affecting the national honor.

Sometimes the human mind is so constituted as to make loafing a virtue. Ask any fisherman, he knows.

No matter how learned a man may be in his profession, he gets a great comfort out of collecting his fees.

In the course of time almost anything can happen, even to the payment of long standing accounts.

Prohibition continues to be much talked about, without any two people being able to agree upon the subject.

There are two kinds of men in the world: those that take themselves seriously and those that other people take seriously.

The first thought that the average citizen of Bay St. Louis would have, upon finding $100 would be where to spend it.

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

The average rural family consumes almost five tons of food annually, or, to be exact, 9,371 pounds, according to the figures of the Toledo Scale Company compiled a short time ago. Of this amount the average man accounts for 2,177.7 pounds, or slightly less than one-quarter of the family's food. (This small percentage was as much of a surprise to us as to you.)

The largest single item of food consumed is milk—2,669 pounds being consumed annually. And the average farm family uses 484 pounds of eggs a year. Speaking in dollars and cents—of every dollar spent by Americans for food, 24 cents goes for milk and milk products. This is by far the largest single item in our food bill. It explains why doctors, inventors, business men and public commissions are constantly trying to devise ways to safeguard the quality and purity of milk.

JITNEY-JUNGLE IN SURE PRES'S LIFE FOR HALF MILLION

W. B. McCarty
President, Jitney-Jungle, Inc.

The national importance of the Jitney-Jungle System of retail self-service grocery selling as being institutional to the towns in which these stores are operated become pronounced last week when the board of directors of Jitney-Jungle, Inc., insured the life of their president, W. B. McCarty, in the amount of one-half million dollars making the company the full beneficiary.

Jitney-Jungle, Inc., maintains its main office in Jackson, Mississippi. The stores throughout the country are home-owned and home-operated. Bay St. Louis is fortunate in having one of these food stations with prominent buying power which enables them to sell groceries at low prices and tends to make living cheaper in our city.

1200 Bu. Peaches Are Harvested By Pittman

County Farm Agent Frank B. Pittman who owns a good fruit orchard and farm in the county, was engaged several days last week in harvesting the peaches from his orchard of about 2500 trees. He had a comparatively short yield, harvesting 1200 bushels where last year the yield was 2700 bushels. Those picked were of fine quality. The peaches were of the Hiley and Georgia Belle varieties.

"The crop was short as a result of the late frosts which got many of the blossoms," Mr. Pittman said. "However, the quality was good, and the prices good," he said. All of the crop was disposed of locally.

This is the only peach orchard in Hancock county. Mr. Pittman is most interested in getting other farmers to set out peaches for this section.

Worried Night after Night as health declined

"I SUFFERED frequently from nervous headaches, and I could not sleep," says Mrs. Cora Dover, R.F.D. 2, Hickory Grove, S.C. "I was thin and pale. I was so weak I could scarcely walk. I tried several remedies but nothing seemed to help me. Night after night I was going down-hill. I had my children to look after, and I was afraid of what would happen if I was in fine health."

"I began to take Cardui on the recommendation of a friend. It wasn't long until I was beginning to pick up. My strength gradually began to return. I rested better at night and was less nervous. I took several bottles of Cardui, and when I had finished taking it I was in fine health."

BOAT SINKS IN BAY OF ST. LOUIS SAT.

Reports of a rather exciting experience for a group of Long Beach men and youths and two negroes, who went out in a boat on the Bay of St. Louis last Saturday night have been received. With some members of the party unable to swim, and fearing to try to wade when their boat which had drifted from near the shore to mid-bay, near the channel, overturned about 9 o'clock Saturday night, the group stood in water up to their arm pits for four hours until about 10 o'clock the following day, according to the story told by members of the party.

They expected to edge along up the Bay, keeping close to shore when they left in the boat, it was said, but owing to a dark night, a rough sea and a high wind were carried outward a considerable distance north of the Bay St. Louis bridge.

Too heavily loaded, apparently, the boat sank and the occupants standing in the water, afraid to wade, lest they should step into deep water, some being unable to swim, stood their ground until John Sutter of Pass Christian happened along in his boat and observed their signals of distress and effected a rescue. Mr. Sutter it was said, took the party to the Bay St. Louis bridge, where they obtained water and food.

The list of names as given by one member of the party was as follows: H. H. Allen, H. C. Bass, Aubrey Collins, Dude Scarborough, W. C. Lacey, J. H. Holman and two colored men, Frank Balim and Fred Tillman.

HOUSE MAJORITY STILL HOLDING LINES, EVEN WITH CHANGES

It will be good news to the people of Mississippi to know that the lines of the majority in the House of Representatives are holding tightly and that the State is yet safe from the wild orgy of millions in bonds for a one-man controlled highway system, permeated with selfish politics.

All over Mississippi the people have rejoiced over the steadfast manner in which the majority house members have upheld the best interests of Mississippi. The people realize what might have happened if this majority had not withstood the flood of executive abuse and the majority will stand again and again.

One or two defections have been made from the majority side, but gains from the opposition have more than made up for them.

PRAYER SERVICE

The regular mid-week prayer services which are conducted at the First Baptist church each Wednesday night, are proving most interesting and the series of discussions and Bible studies which the pastor, Rev. W. S. Allen, is delivering are of great spiritual value. The subject of discussion this week was How Christians Should Treat Each Other. The speaker used I John 3 as his scripture basis and stressed the strength of love as a guide of conduct. The subject next week will be God's Love For Us and will be taken from I John 4. Everyone is invited to attend.

SIXTEEN TROPHIES FOR RACES

Local Donors Give Hand-some Cups For Outboard Motor Races July 28, Breath Announces.

Sixteen handsome cups have been donated by local business firms and individuals for the four outboard motor races to be held on the course at the mouth of Jordan River Sunday, July 28, C. A. Breath, Jr., of Breath and Cue, sponsors for the races announced. These cups will be awarded for first, second and third places in the four races, namely, B and C class motors, unlimited free for all, and run-about classes.

The cups for class B race have been donated as follows: first place, Shamrock Restaurant; second, C. C. McDonald; third, Sanitary Bakery. Cups in the class B race have been donated as follows: first, Harrison Service Station, second, Pitt's Cafe; third, Piazza Bros.

Cups for the third race, the free for all or unlimited class, have been donated as follows: first, Weston Hotel; second, Edwards Bros. Motor Company; third, Monti Bros.

Cups in the final race or Run-About are donated as follows: first, Sea Coast Echo; second, LeBlanc Grocery; third, Bay Mercantile Co.

Regarding the courtesy and consideration of the business people in the Bay and their keen interest in the races Mr. Breath cannot say sufficient nice things. "Everybody helped out and gave cups in such a delightful manner that it was a pleasure to have asked them to cooperate," he said.

"The other cups which have already been donated will be used for the August 25 race, Mr. Breath said.

In explanation of the Run-About race Mr. Breath stated that any displacement boat regardless of make or power of engine is eligible.

MACCABEES TO PLAY GULFPORT ON LOCAL DIAMOND SUNDAY

Sunday, July 7, the Bees play their second game on the local diamond. This promises to be a game of interest as the Bees have met the Gulf-port cleaners twice both games were very close. The Bees are now under the management of Nolan Ladner.

The game will be played at St. Stanislaus Stadium, beginning at 2:30 P. M.

LOCAL BOYS FIGHT ON NEW IBERIA BOXING PROGRAM

Little Boy Peterson, of Kiln and Bay St. Louis, lost in the seventh round of a scheduled tenround bout, at New Iberia, La., last Tuesday night to Young Shekneyder, of Jeanerette, La. The scrap was about even until Pete went down in the seventh. Peterson weighed 146 pounds, Shekneyder, 150 pounds.

Roger Heitzman Wins Decision

Roger Heitzman, local scrapper fought in the six-round semi-windup, winning a decision over Alfred Gan-us, of New Iberia. Roger might have scored a knockout, but his opponent's height made it rather difficult to land solidly on his chin or jaw. Heitzman won all the way so the decision was very popular with all the fans.

BAY YANKEES SLAUGHTER L'SHORE

The Bay St. Louis Yankees practically slaughtered the Lakeshore team at Lakeshore last Sunday with the score being 15-3. The Lakeshore team managed to score 3 runs in the first and second innings while the Yankees kept their run making streak during the entire game. Rob Ladner and A. G. Courege were hampered right and left by the hard hitting Yankees.

The Yankees are anxious to have games with Long Beach, Bayou La Croix, Kiln and any other 65-inch teams, or arranging games phone 75 Bay St. Louis.

STATE SUPT. BOND CALLS ATTENTION TO IMPORTANT MATTER

Editor Sea Coast Echo:

I notice from the papers that the county superintendents and boards of trustees are letting contracts for the transportation of children for the next school year to the public schools of the State. We are all happy in the thought that we have such a splendid arrangement for the children of the remote rural sections to get to good school where they may have an equal chance with other children of the State. We should be careful not to abuse this privilege and at the same time, there is every possible safeguard about the children to be transported. The law says that any and all bids may be rejected. This means that the lowest bid does not have to be accepted. The supposition is that the contracts will be let to the lowest responsible bidders. In some counties more money is being spent on transportation than the average cost of the transportation of children per child, per month varies from one dollar and twenty cents in a few others.

Furthermore, the law as interpreted by the Supreme Court and the Attorney General requires absolutely the driver of the school truck must be a person capable physically, mentally and morally of taking the very highest degree of care of the children in his charge under any and all circumstances. For the county superintendent and boards of trustees to fail in this matter is to fail to keep faith with the tax-payers and also with the children.

Contenders in the National Open Golf Tourney

Real fireworks were expected at Winged Foot, Mamaroneck, N. Y., when anticipation was high that America's great amateur, Bobby Jones, the only man ever to have held the British Open and National Open championships at the same time, would stage a royal comeback administered to him last year.

COMMENT ON SPORTS

SCHMELING WINS.

TO FIGHT SHARKEY.

JONES A GOLFER.

ATHLETICS SEEM CERTAIN.

The question, whether Max Schmeling or Paulino Uzcudun was the better man, has been settled quite conclusively in favor of the German, who succeeded last Thursday in blasting the hopes of the Basque in a tame and uninteresting fifteen-round bout.

Schmeling demonstrated better judgment and superior boxing ability but had no occasion to exhibit stamina. Paulino, on the other hand, taking terrific punishment, gave a splendid demonstration of superb courage and an ability to withstand unlimited attack. Bleeding and with his face battered out of shape, he tottered on his feet through the last few rounds, seeming almost at times to be unconscious. In the face of all that Herr Schmeling could give him, and that was plenty, the man from Spain insisted on groping for his opponent and taking everything in the way of blows that a fighter could deliver to a practically helpless opponent.

Jack Sharkey was introduced from the ring as the next opponent of the winner. So, the stage is set for the next heavy-weight fracas. The outcome, of course, is doubtful. It may be assumed that Sharkey will not prove himself better than the cumbersome Basque. But, on the other hand, Schmeling's ability to defend himself and his ruggedness un-

STATE PLANT BOARD WARNS SWEET POTATO GROWERS OF STATE

State Plant Board inspectors in all parts of Mississippi are now busily engaged in inspecting the fields of certified sweet potato growers for the presence of stem rot, and the Board is advising all farmers who desire to sell seed potatoes or plants next year to make application for a field inspection at once, as the sale of uncertified seed potatoes and plants is illegal and punishable by fine and imprisonment. No charge is made for the inspections, but only growers who expect to sell seed or plants should make application. All requests for inspections should be addressed to the State Plant Board at A. & M. College.

Phone 108, Hancock County Bank

Just by way of diversion we now had an argument as to which way the nearest farmhouse lay from where we were. We had determined to postpone trying to reach Fair Oaks until morning and wanted food and shelter for the night.

I thought that I had seen farm buildings on our right, about a mile back on the trail. Hemmingway insisted that they were on the left.

"There is no use quarreling about it," I said finally. "There is nothing to prevent each of us going the way he thinks is right. It's a cinch we will both find shelter if we keep going far enough."

So we separated. We had grown intensely tired of one another anyway; especially since hunger had put an edge on our tempers. Hemmingway started southward and I brunched off toward the north. It grew dark very rapidly after the sun was gone, but the snow on the ground made it fairly easy to see and I was able to hit up quite a fast pace.

But the farm-house I thought I had seen did not materialize. I could have sworn it was in that direction, too. Rather than give up I pushed on further. I did not like the idea of going back to Hemmingway and admitting that I was wrong.

It was a long time, though, before I saw a welcoming light. I can't say just how long, but I would have guessed several hours. Anyway I was so thoroughly fatigued that I could just barely drag on ski after the other.

But when I saw the light I quickened my pace and made for it. I was afraid that the people who lived there would go to bed before I could arrive.

As I passed over the snow I had a curious sense of familiarity, a feeling as if I had been there before. It wasn't so much that I recognized anything specific, but I just felt more or less at home.

All at once the moon came out, and as it did the building toward which I was going loomed large against the sky.

I knew at once why the neighborhood had seemed familiar. The building was the Old Soldiers' Home, and I had walked all day to return at night to the very spot from which I had started!

I had no very cheerful vision of a warm welcome upon my return to the Home, but it was a case of any port in a storm, so I continued on my way. The Home was still half a mile distant when the light went out. But I plugged on. I felt pretty sure that I could get in without waking any one up, which I decided would be much the better way because I could avoid explanations.

As I drew nearer in the shadow of the woods that bordered the road I saw a figure start suddenly from their protecting shade across the path, and I intervened in the moonlight to the Old Soldiers' Home.

"That struck me as rather curious. Why should anyone be in such a hurry and why so furtive?"

I thought it over quite a while as I stood there waiting for something else to occur.

Then a solution occurred to me. It was doubtless the other escaped prisoner, the one who had held us up in the road when we had started for home the first time.

The chances were that he wanted to get back into the sanitarium and release his partner.

As soon as I arrived at that deduction I, too, hastened in the same direction that he had gone. By the time I got to the front of the building he had disappeared. An open window, however, indicated very plainly where he had gone, and removing my skis I had no hesitation in following him. It was hard work for me to climb through, but I managed it.

There was enough moonlight coming into the living-room where I found myself for me to see that there was no one there. I hardly expected that he would linger long. He was doubtless searching for the room in which Bill, his partner was confined. There was nothing on the main floor except the living room and the service quarters. I glanced hastily in each room below and then went upstairs which was a more likely hunting ground. I paused at the head of the stairs scarce breathing.

He was not there.

While I waited, senses alert and nerves taut, a figure glided out through a door and went down the hall away from me. It disappeared in a moment through another door. I waited perhaps two minutes. It reappeared again and passed on to the next room.

I was in a quandary what to do. If I raised an alarm the chances were about even that he would escape. It seemed better to capture him single-handed.

Therefore, when he disappeared into the next room I followed down the hall. As I did I heard a door in back of me open, but was too intent on my quarry to pay much attention to the sound in the rear.

I came to the door where I had seen my man disappear last. It stood open. I stepped in and closed it softly after me. Next I felt gropingly for the electric-light switch on the wall.

Before I could find it there was a woman's scream in the room somewhere a head of me, and then at my back I heard a clicking sound in the door I had just closed.

My hand found the switch. I turned it on.

Sitting bolt upright in bed, with a revolver leveled at me, was Maryella. There was no one else in sight.

CHAPTER XII.

Several Surprises.

"Throw up your hands," Maryella commanded, undecided how to treat a burglar whom she knew by his first name, but choosing at length the conventional procedure.

"I will, I agreed, 'if you'll put that shoe horn in some other direction.'"

She threw aside the weapon.

"If you are a gentleman you will leave this room," she said firmly. "I don't know what you mean by this."

GU DEPOSITS TO Health and Happiness

By Bernarr Macfadden

WHAT IS WRONG WITH PHYSICAL CULTURE?

"There is something all wrong with the idea of physical culture," a man of fifty said to me one day. "Why should it make the young man healthy and strong and the older man uncomfortable and sick? If it's so fine, why isn't it universally beneficial? Take me, for example. Every time I eat something that is supposed to be good for me it upsets my digestion. Tennis and swimming are out of the question—my heart won't stand it. A long walk exhausts me. Physical culture is a young man's game all right."

Many middle-aged people will agree with this man. They have experienced the same trouble. They feel "better" when going along in the same old rut and taking no unusual exercise. Therefore "Something is all wrong with physical culture."

Something IS all wrong—but not with physical culture, ignorance and indifference are the real culprits. In the last fifteen years physical culture has taken tremendous strides, but the biggest stride of all is yet to be taken. That is the educating of people to the real meaning and purpose of physical culture.

In its truest sense it means to begin from the moment of birth to live as we were intended by nature to live. Eating bone and tissue building foods. Regular elimination. Sufficient rest and sleep. Wholesome play. A happy, healthful frame of mind. And a worshipful reverence of the human form—the earthly temple of the soul during the span of life.

Too many people think that physical culture means strenuous and unpleasant exercises, and denying oneself things that the appetite craves. They point with pride to the high standard of athletics in our schools and colleges and call that physical culture. To prudes it is synonymous with immodesty and sex. But those fallacies are gradually being destroyed.

Athletics is not the definition of physical culture; it is merely a part of the whole. In schools and colleges too much attention is paid to training chiefly the bodies of those who are already in good physical condition by making available to them special apparatus that is not available in everyday life. The workings are shoved into the background and forgotten.

Physical culture is NOT a young man's game. It is not a game at all. It is the free and glorious privilege of every individual of any age. The cure-all of sickness of mind and body. The preventive of disease and unhappiness, when begun early.

It is the only necessary guidepost to health and happiness on our journey through life.

Mississippi Happenings

SHOT INTO BUSH—

A few days ago Walter Bush, 40, entered the home of Miss Grace Noblin near Starkville, began beating her aged father with an axe handle. Grace yelled "Stop!" then shot; Walter started toward her. She shot again, killed him. Two days later she was released from jail, sent back home.

METCALF CALF—

Gerald Metcalf went to a Tupelo hospital. His prize pet Jersey bull calf, valued at $2,000, was the cause thereof. Riled, the pet rammed Gerald in the stomach, tossed him over his back.

CITIFIED PIGS—

There are too many hogs in Greenwood. So decreed a few days ago Dr. C. P. Google, health officer. Dr. Google had cause to giggle when he found filthy pig pens placed in back yards of families famed locally for respectability. He ordered Greenwood hogs sold or killed.

U. S. GRANT—

When Ulysses S. Grant came to Mississippi he marched on Holly Springs, captured it. In the mansion of Walter G. Thompson he set up headquarters. Because citizens of Holly Springs remember Grant with more esteem than any Federal general who visited them, they have bought the Thompson home, will preserve it.

COLORFUL SCULPTOR—

Charlie Lewis is a negro worker at the I. C. shops in Water Valley. During the hours that most negro workers rool their galloping cubes and flash their aces and king's Charles makes models in clay. A recent statue he completed of President Hoover has won praise in the press.

HORSE SHOES and LUCK

Everybody has heard that horse shoes bring luck but few of us know the story that has created this expression.

In a recent issue of Veterinary Snap Shots the story is told as follows:

Once upon a time, according to the Spanish, the devil started out on a mischief-making trip. He had a long way to travel and his feet got sore, so he stopped at a blacksmith's shop to get shoes. The smith recognized the devil but dared not refuse to shoe him; however, he made the operation as painful as possible. He pared the devil's hoofs down, applied hot shoes, put on ill-fitting shoes, drove nails into the quick and the devil went on his way. The shoes hurt him so badly that he soon stopped, pulled off the shoes and threw them away. Now, whenever the devil sees a horse shoe he turns his back and goes away.

Collegiate version: "Come on, kid, let's go, places and insult people." You Do.

HINTS FOR THE MOTORIST

Now that you are driving to the beaches again, remember, if you get stuck in the sand, you can often pull yourself out by deflating your rear tires. But pump them up again to the right pressure as soon as you are on the road.

If, when running in high, the gear-shift lever is too close or otherwise in your way, you can have a mechanic bend it so that it will take another position.

When taking a demonstration ride in a car you are thinking about buying, test the pressure on its tires yourself. Sometimes trickier salesmen keep the tires under-inflated so the car will ride easier, and sometimes they over-inflate them so the car will steer easier. What you want to know is how the car performs when the tires are right.

FIVE NARROWLY ESCAPE DEATH IN AUTO COLLISION

Four In Ford Coupe Plunge Over 15 Foot Bridge To Waters Of Canal.

A narrow escape from death came to five motorists just after midnight Friday night when a Ford coupe containing four passengers on the one seat of the car, one young lady and four young men, and a Lincoln containing one man and a German police dog, collided on the bridge which crosses the canal through Pass Christian Isles just east of the traffic bridge over Bay of St. Louis. The Ford with its four occupants plunged over the bridge to the edge of the canal below, a distance of 15 feet and was buried in water to a depth of about five feet. As the Ford catapulted into the water a ten-foot rail from the wooden bridge tore its way through the windshield and pierced the back of the car just above the seat, and did not touch either of the four occupants.

After the Ford struck the water, turning over it thought possibly twice and landing on its side, the occupants got out, and none of them were injured except with cuts and bruises. The driver of the Ford was a Mr. McLain of Creighton, Ala., and he said he was staying at Gulfport for a time. The names of the other three occupants of the car were not learned.

The driver of the Lincoln car was William Bruster, Jr., of New Orleans. After the collision the large car balanced on the very edge of the bridge, threatening to go over and fall upon the helpless Ford below, the car apparently being kept in position on the bridge by the engine's weight, holding it there. Mr. Bruster also escaped except minor bruises.

The Ford, almost a total wreck, was towed to the Edwards Bros. Motor Company of Bay St. Louis where it has been viewed by many people during the week. The Lincoln which was damaged about the front end was repaired and again placed in commission.

HUGE DEMAND FOR SARGON SMASHING WORLD'S RECORDS

If anyone told you that one single medicine had relieved tens of thousands of suffering men and women in all walks of life of their health troubles and that it had put thousands of other men and women unable to find relief back to work, it would sound impossible, wouldn't it?

But that is just exactly what is happening right here in this state. Not only has it brought them new-found health and strength, but it has given them new energy, new vitality and a new lease on life itself. In many cases, the results have been so remarkable that many people have bought it and sent it to friends in other states, while other thousands have written grateful letters of praise.

The wonderful success that Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass, Pills have achieved in only one year's time simply staggers the imagination.

In the state of California alone where it was introduced on April 16 of this year, it has required the astonishing total of nine solid carloads, or more than 200,000 bottles—to supply the demand. Kansas City retailers and wholesalers have sold and distributed over 300,000 bottles in the states of Kansas and Missouri. Minneapolis and St. Paul dealers have required nine entire carloads in five months. The demand in practically every state and section where Sargon has been introduced has been correspondingly large. When national distribution has been completed it will require millions upon millions of bottles to supply the ever-increasing demand for this celebrated medicine.

Back of Sargon's triumph in the drug stores is Sargon's triumph in the homes. Everywhere it has been introduced it has become a household word and it is unquestionably the most widely talked-of medicine in the world today.

When Sargon was first given to the world just one year ago, it was hailed as a triumph in the field of modern medicine. Many well known authorities who watched its development freely predicted that it would become the one great outstanding, health-giving remedy of the age. But the men of science who labored for years to perfect it little dreamed it would become such a great boon to humanity in so short a time.

Sargon may be obtained at the Atlas Drug Store on the beach and State streets, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

FRUIT FLY UNCOVERS BOOZE.

Sections of Florida are in the throes of a strict quarantine because of the presence of the Mediterranean fruit fly, which Governmental authorities are endeavoring to keep from spreading.

Other states are, of course, afraid this dreaded pest may enter their borders and a strict vigilance is put around carriers coming from infested areas.

Some results unlooked for have come from this quarantine, and Tennessee officers have found the Florida pest an aid to prohibition enforcement officers. While hunting for possible flies, Tennessee officers recently found more than ten thousand dollars worth of bootleg whiskey.

Methodist Church.

Rev. C. C. Clark, pastor, will fill his pulpit at the First Methodist church, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and again at 8 o'clock. Sunday night, Sunday school will be held regularly at 10 a. m. All members of the church are urged to attend the various services and visitors are cordially welcome.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TRAINING SCHOOL TO OPEN SUNDAY

Miss Maggie May Jones of Methodist Conference To Teach Course.

The Cokesbury Sunday School Training School will open at the local Methodist church Sunday afternoon, 3 o'clock, at which time the class for the course will be organized. Miss Maggie May Jones of Jackson, graduate of Millsaps College, a representative of the Mississippi Conference Sunday School Board, will conduct the course. The book chosen to study is The Small Sunday School, Its Plans and Work, by L. F. Sensabaugh.

The course will be conducted in six meetings, each to have two fifty minute periods, the first to be held Sunday afternoon, the second Monday night, and the others each night through Friday.

The hour of the meetings next week will be decided at the Sunday afternoon meeting.

Rev. C. C. Clark, pastor, under whose supervision the course will be conducted, urges all Sunday School teachers, officers, workers and anyone interested to take the course, those planning to enroll to be present Sunday afternoon.

"I'LL CONTROL MY BOARD," SAYS BILBO MISS.'S MUSSOLINI.

Greed for control and power seems to be one of the governor's chief obsessions. That he will appoint only those on the various boards who can be controlled, is intimated in his statement following his unsuccessful attempt to remove Chancellor Hume as head of the University. Gov. Bilbo said, "I will have control of the Board of Trustees next June and I will get him then." Therefore, one of the qualifications as a member of the Board of Trustees of Universities and Colleges is opposition to Chancellor Hume and President Pant of M. S. C. W.

CALOMEL FOR WORMS

Most of us who were children years ago still shudder when we think of the old-fashioned dose of calomel, strong enough to kill a horse had it dissolved in a stomach, will be glad to learn this dose is now being used to destroy maggots of various kind.

The Geneva Experiment Station is using calomel, otherwise known as mercurous chloride, effectively in killing the worms that eat the life of cabbage roots. It is said that calomel is better for this purpose than corrosive sublimate and is applied in the same way and is just as cheap as a corrosive.

Probably there are doctors who still use lots of calomel on their patients, but many of us will welcome the news that worms and maggots are now getting it instead of humans.

LAUNDRY BUILDING*Full-Fledged Laundry To Be Built—Jos. L. Favre and Sons Have Contract.

Over on the Bookter street side of St. Stanislaus College premises rapid progress is being made in the work of constructing a new laundry building, to be modernized-equipped for the college use.

The building measures 40 x 60, constructed of concrete blocks, and will be one-story, and all of the semi-finished proof type. Jos. L. Favre and Sons, Bay St. Louis residents, have the contract of building, while Bro. Regis, of the college, is supervisor in charge.

"We expect our laundry building finished and to have it fully equipped and operating for the early part of September, if not before," said Bro. Regis, "for the some two hundred boys and over that will be registered for the opening."

Part of the machinery from the present college laundry unit will be used in the new building, but the bulk of equipment, new and of latest pattern and patent, from the American Laundry Company, will be installed. The laundry employs quite a number of Bay St. Louis people and is a means of support for more than one family, although the new laundry will not do outside work, its construction and operation exclusively for collegians and members of the faculty.

The cost of the building is kept within the confines of $5,000.00 and the total equipment slightly under $10,000, it was said.

The new laundry means better and quicker work, and also include an up-to-date pressing department, and in all will prove a big advantage. An idea of work to be done by the laundry is gained by the fact that some nine hundred shirts are washed and ironed every week, and sometimes more.

—Rev. Wm. J. Leech, president Pass Christian Rotary Club, was a guest Wednesday night on the occasion of Bay St. Louis' Rotary Club Ladies' Night celebration.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Weston of Logtown had as their guests at the Rotary function Wednesday evening, Mrs. M. Briggs, Mrs. Weston's mother, from Pharr, Texas, who is visiting for the balance of the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Weston have as their house guests for the greater part of the summer, Mrs. Jack Robertson, and young daughter, who are down from their home in Birmingham, and are frequent visitors to Bay St. Louis.

—Mrs. J. C. Bryan went to Louisville, Ala., Sunday night, to be at the bedside of her mother-in-law who is seriously ill. She joined her husband who went there last week.

—Mrs. F. V. R. Moore of New Orleans is at the Answer for several weeks vacation on the coast. She was joined for the Fourth of July by her husband, Rev. Moore, Episcopal rector of the city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Moulin and two children, Albert Jr., and Adelaide, of New Orleans, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Schreck of Carroll avenue for the summer. A party of five young men, members of Kappa Delta fraternity, namely, Hal Nelson, Nicholas Compagno, Bill Davenport, Walter Knowler and Charles Meynier, all of New Orleans, are spending the Fourth of July holiday and week-end on the coast and are registered at the Answer.

—Dr. and Mrs. Segura, of Jackson, Miss., after a visit to the relatives of the Doctor's in Louisiana, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio S. Weston, Mrs. Segura's parents, at Logtown. Their young son, Horatio, is preparing to leave within the next few days for a tour of part of Europe with an organized trip participated in by Boy Scouts.

Some eighty or more people, including Bay St. Louis Rotarians, and guests, enjoyed a Ladies' Night program by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club Wednesday at Hotel Weston, on the occasion of newly-elected officers assuming their positions.

Officers Complimented.

Retiring President Jos. O. Mauffray opened the session, since the event took place of the regular weekly meeting, and presented the newly-elected president, C. C. McDonald, and also newly-elected secretary, Arthur A. Scalfie, re-elected. Fecitously, the incoming president was presented with a huge gavel, especially made, and of metal, and Secretary Arthur with a pen many times more the regulation size.

One For Bro. Peter, Too.

Bro. Peter, vice-president, unavoidably detained, was also announced and a gavel of similar design, only smaller, kept in reserve for future presentation.

New President Takes Chair.

President C. C. McDonald assumed the chair and presided during the course of the delightful evening. Dr. C. M. Shipp, chairman program committee is responsible for the numbers of the evening.

Standard Oil Company Quartette, of New Orleans, accompanied by Miss McMurry, accompanist, gave several selections concluding with a negro spiritual, and their excellent renderings easily caught favor.

Clever Telephone Stunt.

Miss Beatrice Smith, charming and accomplished young daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith and Miss Lida Boyd Blount, talented and attractive young niece of Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Shipp, gave an interpretation of a telephone conversation in which three perfect members were sought from the Rotary roster for dramatic or theatrical service, which was cleverly both for its rendition and originality.

Attorney "Bob" Genin was selected to deliver a pin "Past President" to Joseph O. Mauffray, as a token of esteem and appreciation of past services, which was received with fitting remarks, as fittingly as those made in the presentation. Mr. Mauffray said he discovered a diamond on the pin, that was the first he had ever possessed. (Laughter.)

Father Fahey Featured.

Father Leo E. Fahey, native son, and local priest, was the featured speaker of the evening. His remarks were appropriate. On the eve of the Fourth, as he stated, he wished to speak of patriotism, and said he knew of no organization that made more for the patriotism of this country's citizens than Rotary, quoting the Rotary motto, "He Profits Most Who Serves Best," and "Service Above Self." His address was sublime in every aspect and left a most inspiring and lasting impression.

JULY 13 AND 14*Our Lady of the Gulf Church Benefit Promises to Exceed Previous Efforts.

There will be a general meeting this Friday night, July 5, at the residence of Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, pastor church Our Lady of the Gulf, in the interest of the forthcoming two-night benefit, Saturday and Sunday, July 13 and 14.

This meeting promises much, for it is the time and place when the finals for the big double event will be discussed and decided. As already stated, there will be some fifteen tables or departments for the delectation and edification of the thousands that are expected to throng the premises of St. Stanislaus College on the double date.

Our people, and many visitors in Bay St. Louis and Waveland and vicinity just now are desirous of diversion and social entertainment. They come to the BayWaveland section and Mississippi Gulf Coast in general not only for bathing, sea breezes, motor-ing, scenery, etc., but entertainment. Humans crave for thrills and excitement in the modified form social conventions places these things. The church bazaar and entertainment will be one big feature of the season and visitors will welcome the occasion. Besides, it is their church as well as yours. It is here they worship, it is here during their stay they are delighted to serve the obligation of helping support the church and assist in reducing the heavy debt.

Ed. Arceneaux, member of the publicity committee, like members of other committees, is quite busy and is derelict in no effort to achieve, in the ultimate and in the last analysis, the goal—success.

Ladies and gentlemen interested will not forget tonight. General meeting at the rectory.

FROM CABARET DANCE
FOR CHURCH BENEFIT*Pass Christian Trinity Episcopal Church Has Novel And Successful Benefit At The Inn.

Vestrymen of Trinity Episcopal Church, of Pass Christian, gave a novel dinner dance at the Inn-by-the-Sea, on Bay St. Louis, Wednesday night, benefit for the new parish house.

A number of Bay St. Louis folk were included in the 126 guests who dined and danced until a late hour, and who enjoyed the ten vaudeville numbers presented during the evening.

The party was quite novel, featured as a "cabaret dinner dance," and included talent from New Orleans and along the Gulf Coast. Exceeding every expectation, every anticipation well describes the success of the evening.

A feature most novel was the fact members of the vestry, white-coated, acted in capacity of waiters. This included some of the most prominent aristocrats of effete Pass Christian.
